Numeracy and Literacy Results Available

Writing and Numeracy CAA results are available to students on their NZQA page. This adds to the Reading results published last term. Students can access their results as well as a breakdown of how they have fared in each section.

Congratulations to all of those who have gained Literacy and/or Numeracy.

For those students who were not successful this time round, there are Maths teachers who will be available in the Library as part of the Thursday afternoon homework programme to support students with further learning to prepare for the September round of CAAs.
