

Bev Smale Technology Awards

Bev Smale first attended CHS as a student and then as a teacher. She taught PE and also Home Economics at CHS for 14 years in the 1960s/70s. Bev loved her time at CHS and has given back to the school by gifting a very generous donation to the CHS Ed Trust. These two awards are made possible through Bev's donation. Nominations for both these awards are presented by the principal to the CHS Ed Trust at their October meeting. The successful recipients will be announced at Senior Prizegiving.

Bev Smale Food Technology Award – this is awarded to a senior food tech student who would most likely not be recognised with other awards but will have had a positive attitude and work ethic during their time as a student in the technology faculty.

Bev Smale Fabrics Technology Award - this is awarded to a senior fabrics student who would most likely not be recognised with other awards but will have had a positive attitude and work ethic during their time as a student in the technology faculty.
